

Single Water Source from Upper Delaware River Called Ideal Solution to the Problem

Commission Executive Outlines Possibilities At Citizens' Meeting

FALLSINGTON — The ideal solution to Lower Bucks County's present and future water problems would be for a single water supply agency to develop the Delaware River above Morrisville as a source, James Allen, executive secretary of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin, said at a meeting here last night.

"It would not be practical at present, because of expediency and the different political units," he said, "but it is a goal to keep in mind."

Result of Survey

The recommendation was a result of a recent water survey Allen made for the Bucks County Planning Commission. He discussed the conclusions of his study, which recommended as an immediate measure dividing the region into two large units separated by Neshaminy Creek and the southern boundary of Newtown twp.

Allen said the Neshaminy Creek and its tributaries and underground sources can also be used to provide water, but that the Delaware below Morrisville "is not a desirable source of a public water supply."

Must Be Alert

Referring to the accidental spilling of poisonous chemicals into the Delaware on Tuesday from the Rohm & Haas plant, Allen said, "The management of Bristol Water Works will have to be everlastingly alert to see that the water is safe for human consumption."

The river above Morrisville, he said, "will always be an abundant source for Lower Bucks County, of good quality and cheap to use."

The use of the Delaware Division of the Pennsylvania Canal to bring water to the area from the Lehigh River was suggested by Joseph W. Forsyth, vice president of the Delaware Valley Protective Association. He said the canal is now being improved, and will be flowing with water by Spring. Forsyth said preservation of the canal will also provide an attractive recreation area.

Allen acknowledged that the canal could carry enough water to serve Lower Bucks County.

Produces Estimate Only; Mistrial Is Declared

Juror Withdrawn In Doylestown Court Case; Damages Had Been Asked

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 5.—The 12th juror was ordered withdrawn from the jury box and a mistrial was declared this week in Common Pleas court when a Phila. garage-man could not find the bill, and took to court an estimate instead. The garage-man listed in the suit was Kurt Jasch.

John F. Borghi, of Phila., was suing a Georgetown, Del., motorist, W. D. Brasure, for $259.19 damages resulting from a two-car collision on the Bethlehem Pike, near Souderton, Nov. 5, 1950.

The defendant was not in court and when the garage-man, Kurt Jasch, who repaired the plaintiff's car, testified that he only had the estimate which was for $223.95 but could not find the bill the mistrial followed. Borghi didn't remember what the repair bill was either.

"You mean, you don't have the original bill or can't remember how

27-Year-Old Man, Twice a Widower, Applies For a License to Marry a 17-Year-Old Girl

DOYLESTOWN — An application from a Philadelphia man, only 27 years old but twice a widower, for a license to wed a 17-year-old girl, was among 124 marriage license applications received at the office of the Clerk of Orphan's Court of Bucks County during November.

The records show that 21 women had been previously married and divorced once, and one woman had been divorced twice. There were 19 men who had been previously married and divorced. Seven widowers and five widows were among the applicants.

The oldest couple was from Pennlyn, the bridegroom being 61 years old and married twice before, and his bride was 46. This was her first trip to the altar. Hilltown was the hometown listed by the youngest couple making application. The

Work Progresses on Bldg. For Jehovah Witnesses

Work is progressing on a one-story cinder block building near the intersection of Green lane and Emille road, being erected by Jehovah Witnesses, now meeting in a hall on Wood street, Bristol.

The new building, to be known as Kingdom Hall, is 30 by 60 feet and will have a seating capacity of more than 100. The tract of land was donated to the group.

All of the work is being donated by men of the congregation, according to a spokesman for Jehovah Witnesses, and it is anticipated completion is expected in the spring. Minister of the group is Pioneer Cecil Jones.

Assessments Debated By E. Rockhill Resident

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 5.—A hearing has been decreed by President Judge Hiram H. Keller in the court of common pleas, for Edward Charles of East Rockhill township. Charles is appealing from an assessment made by the County Commissioners by Board of Revision of Taxes.

Charles, in his statement in the prothonotary's office, alleges that his message and tract in East Rockhill township was assessed at $3,600.

He avers that this assessment is unjust, unfair and inequitable because it was not made with due regard to and with a reasonable relationship to valuations of other properties in East Rockhill twp.

At a hearing held Sept. 19, the County Commissioners sustained the Board of Revision of Taxes and refused to lower the assessment. Ruth Elizabeth Fredericks, Feastik, in an action in divorce, is suing her husband, George E. Fredericks, of Parok First University, Moharrem, Bey, Alexandria, Egypt. They were married June 1, 1929, in Fox Chase, and separated April 2, 1948.

William O. Schaeffer, Allentown, has been named the respondent in a libel in divorce by Armanda L. Schaeffer, Quakertown. They were married April 5, 1942, in Richlandtown, by a Lutheran minister, Rev. C. C. Schlitzler.

"Green Thumbers" Learn More of Bulbs, Plants

Large Display of Flowering Plants Are Distributed Among Members

The Winder Village Green Thumb Club, sponsored by Lower Bucks County District Y. M. C. A., held its Christmas meeting Wednesday at the home of O. E. Norbeck, Winder Village. The meeting was opened by George Eysenback, president, who introduced new members, Mrs. M. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fischer.

It was announced that the large display of flowering plants was made possible through generosity of J. C. Schmidt, Walter Pitzouka, Bristol; Raymond VanArtsdalen, Hulmeville; Harry C. Fromuth, Holland. Each plant was identified.

Marie Fitzpatrick gave a demonstration on making Christmas decorations for windows and doors; also suggestions on small arrangements for shut-ins, buffet tables, and centerpieces. Some members asked for ideas on individual decorating problems. Pictures were taken of the displays by Phillip Felicione, of the Y. M. C. A. Camera Club, to be shown at a future meeting.

Announcements were made of Christmas programs and other Garden Club meetings in the surrounding areas.

Plans are being made to have a speaker on garden planning and arranging at the Jan. 7th meeting at the Norbeck residence.

George Eysenback informed how and when to start 34 different kinds of bulbs and plants to have them bloom for Easter.

A general discussion period followed while refreshments were being served. Each member received a potted plant from the display.

Train Schedules Are Upset By Stalled Freight Train

A "hot box" on a freight train here this morning delayed arrival of the local Pennsylvania Railroad train scheduled to get here at 9:10. While railroad men worked to separate the "hot" freight car, on track two, express trains were rerouted to track one, normally used for the local line. The local was held at Holmesburg and expected to be delayed almost an hour.

Steel Firm Executive To Address Managers' Club Tuesday Evening

Members of Several Civic Clubs Invited to Be Present at Parley

Dr. Albert J. Berdis, general superintendent of the Fairless Works, U. S. Steel Co., will address the members of the YMCA Industrial Management Club next Tuesday evening, December 9, at the Edgely Community House. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Club President William Lloyd of the Thomas Leedom Co., will preside. There will be a special industrial display and the Bristol High School band, under the direction of Kenneth Bachman, will furnish the entertainment.

Civic Clubs Invited

The December meeting is traditionally Service Club Nite and the following area clubs have been invited to attend: Bristol, Bensalem and Morrisville Rotary Clubs, the Bristol, Lower Bucks, Morrisville and Fallsington Lions Clubs and the Bristol Exchange Club.

The Bucks County Industrial Management Club was organized by the YMCA in 1948 with more than 100 members to provide an opportunity for industrial supervisors to exchange ideas and to discuss industrial problems.

Important Issues

Personalities of industry, government and labor speak upon the most important issues facing management, foremen and labor today. It also promotes personal growth and understanding through the sharing of opinions and experiences, and keeps its members in touch with the best thoughts on industrial management, human relations in industry and allied subjects. The club is non-political, non-sectarian and takes no part in industrial controversies of any nature whatsoever. It is not affiliated with any local or national group supporting industrial and labor philosophies.

Alumni Directors Have Session in Bensalem

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS — A meeting of the board of directors of Bensalem H. S. Alumni Association was held last evening to clear up final obligations of the homecoming affair held Saturday evening. Suggestions were offered as to how to improve future affairs.

Jan 27th was set as the date of the next alumni meeting. Suggestions were made to assist the entertainment committee for this program.

The group was informed the second issue of the "Bensalemite" will be available next week. Plans were made to sell subscriptions to Alumni members as there now is an Alumni section.

The next director's meeting will be Jan. 13th.

Suggestion Box Will Be Feature, P. T. A. Meeting

East Bristol Twp. Parent-Teacher Ass'n will hold its December meeting Monday at eight p. m., in Edgely community building. The card party report will be given, and Christmas plans for the children will be discussed. A "question and suggestion box" will be presented and members will be asked to place in it any questions or suggestions they might have concerning the meetings, the programs for the year, and projects they would like to see accomplished this year. These slips need not be signed.

An opportunity will be given parents to talk with their children's teachers during the 15 minute "get-acquainted" period in the meeting, after which the program will get underway.

Mrs. Erna McKevitt, music supervisor, will direct the program and present the sixth grade pupils in a skit "Christmas in Mexico." Carol singing will also be led by Mrs. McKevitt. Refreshments will be served.

TO FETE HOCKEY TEAM

Bristol PTA will hold a meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 16th, at eight p. m., in cafeteria of Bristol high school. There will be a continuation of the panel discussion of "Children in the Schools." That same evening, the PTA will entertain the hockey team of Bristol high school at a dinner in the high school at six p. m. The team is the hockey "champs" of lower Bucks county.

Radio Communication System Sought

Number of Prowlers in Langhorne Growing Fast, Says Police Chief at Council Meeting

LANGHORNE — The increase in the number of prowlers in the Langhorne area from a previous average of two a year to almost one a week was told of by Police Chief William E. Arnwine in his report to Langhorne Borough Council last night.

Arnwine elaborated later by saying that a great number of these reported prowlers cannot be found by police. He attributed the prowlers' escape to the lack of a radio communication, permitting too long an interval of time between the report of the prowler and police arrival on the scene.

Radio Wanted

The chiefs of police of the surrounding areas are anxious for radio communication, he said. He pictured a communication network between Hulmeville, Langhorne, Pennel, and Newtown boroughs and Middletown township which he said the police of those areas were actively discussing.

Arnwine reported that 11 motorists had to be pulled out of the mire at Richardson Ave. and Pine St., in a five day period last month. Soft shoulders exist along the roadway at this point he said.

Curbing Discussed

Problems arising because of recently-installed curbing being above the level of sidewalks in some sections were discussed. William J. Palmer, secretary said, "Considering the size of the project it went over pretty smoothly." He said that only $215 of the total cost yet returned.

Croydon Motorist Charged With Fleeing After Mishap

Joseph Fitch Is Accused of Damaging Big Truck Parked Off Road

CROYDON — A Croydon driver, who was apprehended at his home after allegedly fleeing the scene of an accident, was scheduled for hearing on a charge of violation of the motor code, according to Bristol Twp. Officer Ernest Nuskey.

The one so charged is Joseph Fitch, 58, of Central ave., who, according to officers, was the operator of a car which rammed a tractor-trailer owned by Breslin & Conn yesterday.

Fitch is said to have sustained minor cuts of the face, but refused treatment. In addition to Nuskey, officers Charles Shaw and Robert Lawrence investigated the case.

Police report that Fitch's car ran off the road-way and hit the rear of the Breslin & Conn vehicle parked at Logan avenue and State road. Slight damage was caused to the truck, and considerable damage to the right portion of the Fitch machine.

No one was in the tractor-trailer at the time, police state, but the driver, Thomas Bellerby, who was in a building nearby, ran out, as did

Deputy Attorney General to Investigate Dumping of Chemicals

Deputy Attorney General Robert J. Trace is scheduled to come to Bristol Monday to investigate the accidental dumping of 2,000 pounds of cyanide into the Delaware River. Trace will determine how the incident occurred at the Rohm & Haas plant and decide on the basis of his findings whether legal action will be brought under the Clean Streams Act. The probe was ordered by Attorney General Robert E. Woodside, Jr. After the accidental discharge of the poisonous chemical on Tuesday, other industrial plants in the area along the Delaware closed, temporarily idling some 10,000 workers. Sanitary Water Board officials said it was the second such incident at the same plant, which permitted 6,000 pounds of poisonous chemicals to escape into the river last April.

"Ike" Completes 3-Day Tour of Korean War Zone

Seoul (INS)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower completed a whirlwind three-day tour of the Korean war theater today with a promise of continued aid to South Korea in its struggle against the Communists. Before taking off for his return journey, Eisenhower reaffirmed that the United Nations forces will defeat the Communist armies opposing them in Korea.

The president-to-be left Korea at 6:01 EST today after three days of touring combat zones, inspecting American and South Korean troops and conferring with top-ranking commanders in the Far East. The General and his staff often were in range of enemy guns during his Korean tour.

Eisenhower let it be known that he and his accompanying party, which included two of his cabinet appointees and other aides, would "study and digest" their Korean findings during the 10,000-mile trip back to the United States. He refused to answer questions fired at him by 125 correspondents before he left Korea.

Eisenhower implied that he would make no detailed report on his

Motorists Face Hearings On Manslaughter Charges

Three motorists face hearings on charges of manslaughter as the result of the deaths of three pedestrians struck on roads in the area. Two of the victims were young children and the third, killed early this morning on Route 13, was a farm laborer residing in Tullytown.

Victims of the accidents were listed by police as John Garcia, 42, of Bordentown Rd., Tullytown, a laborer employed on the King Farms; Lawrence H. Ginn, Jr., age 5, of 269 Main St., Doylestown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Ginn; and Louise Derstine, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Derstine, of Allentown Rd., near Elroy.

Walking on Highway

Patr. Ralph Ragnoli, of Bristol Township police, said Garcia was killed shortly after 3 o'clock this morning when struck by a car while walking along Route 13 about a mile west of Weatshead Rd.

Driver of the car involved, police said, was L. Edward Johnson, of Main St., Tullytown, who was returning home from his job at the Warner Sand and Gravel Co. in Morrisville when the accident happened.

Didn't See Pedestrian

Police Chief Franklin Kirby of Falls Township said Johnson is being held in $500 bail on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Johnson told police a car in front of him at the time nearly struck the pedestrian, swerving out suddenly, and Johnson did not see the pedestrian until it was too late.

He stopped to render aid until the Bucks County Rescue Squad arrived to take Garcia to Mercer Hospital in Trenton, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The Ginn boy was crossing Main St., Doylestown, near his home, police said, when he was struck by the car of Joseph Brucker, Tradesville. He had just put a note on the windshield of his father's car, and was going over to join his mother.

Taken to Doylestown Emergency Hospital in the Doylestown ambulance, he was removed to Abington Hospital for a brain operation, and died there.

Louise Derstine's death resulted from a skull fracture and a broken leg she sustained when a car operated by Raymond E. Trusdell, Elroy, struck her while she was sledding on Allentown rd., Elroy, police said.

She had been sledding with two brothers and a friend, and was walking up the road, on the opposite side from her companions. Running across the highway to join her companions, she was knocked down by the car.

She died in Grand View Hospital.

Outline Plans for Two Newportville Functions

NEWPORTVILLE—The monthly meeting of Junior Auxiliary of Newportville Fire Co. No. 1, is postponed from Dec. 9th until Jan. due to Christmas activities in the fire station this month.

The Ladies Auxiliary held a session Dec. 1st. Due to absence of the president, Mrs. Norwood Lewis, Mrs. William Sottung presided. Final preparations were made for the children's Christmas party and the women's Christmas party. The women's party will be held Dec. 18th at eight p. m. It will be a covered dish affair. DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 5.—A hearing has been decreed by President Judge Hiram H. Keller in the court of common pleas, for Edward Charles of East Rockhill township. Charles is appealing from an assessment made by the County Commissioners by Board of Revision of Taxes.

Charles, in his statement in the prothonotary's office, alleges that his message and tract in East Rockhill township was assessed at $3,600.

He avers that this assessment is unjust, unfair and inequitable because it was not made with due regard to and with a reasonable relationship to valuations of other properties in East Rockhill twp.

At a hearing held Sept. 19, the County Commissioners sustained the Board of Revision of Taxes and refused to lower the assessment.

"Green Thumbers" Learn More of Bulbs, Plants

Large Display of Flowering Plants Are Distributed Among Members

The Winder Village Green Thumb Club, sponsored by Lower Bucks County District Y. M. C. A., held its Christmas meeting Wednesday at the home of O. E. Norbeck, Winder Village. The meeting was opened by George Eysenback, president, who introduced new members, Mrs. M. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fischer.

It was announced that the large display of flowering plants was made possible through generosity of J. C. Schmidt, Walter Pitzouka, Bristol; Raymond VanArtsdalen, Hulmeville; Harry C. Fromuth, Holland. Each plant was identified.

Marie Fitzpatrick gave a demonstration on making Christmas decorations for windows and doors; also suggestions on small arrangements for shut-ins, buffet tables, and centerpieces. Some members asked for ideas on individual decorating problems. Pictures were taken of the displays by Philip Felicione, of the Y. M. C. A. Camera Club, to be shown at a future meeting.

Announcements were made of Christmas programs and other Garden Club meetings in the surrounding areas.

Plans are being made to have a speaker on garden planning and arranging at the Jan. 7th meeting at the Norbeck residence.

George Eysenback informed how and when to start 34 different kinds of bulbs and plants to have them bloom for Easter.

A general discussion period followed while refreshments were being served. Each member received a potted plant from the display.

Train Schedules Are Upset By Stalled Freight Train

A "hot box" on a freight train here this morning delayed arrival of the local Pennsylvania Railroad train scheduled to get here at 9:10.

While railroad men worked to separate the "hot" freight car, on track two, express trains were rerouted to track one, normally used for the local line. The local was held at Holmesburg and expected to be delayed almost an hour.

Steel Firm Executive To Address Managers' Club Tuesday Evening

Members of Several Civic Clubs Invited to Be Present at Parley

Dr. Albert J. Berdis, general superintendent of the Fairless Works, U. S. Steel Co., will address the members of the YMCA Industrial Management Club next Tuesday evening, December 9, at the Edgely Community House. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Club President William Lloyd of the Thomas Leedom Co., will preside. There will be a special industrial display and the Bristol High School band, under the direction of Kenneth Bachman, will furnish the entertainment.

Civic Clubs Invited
The December meeting is traditionally Service Club Nite and the following area clubs have been invited to attend: Bristol, Bensalem and Morrisville Rotary Clubs, the Bristol, Lower Bucks, Morrisville and Fallsington Lions Clubs and the Bristol Exchange Club.

The Bucks County Industrial Management Club was organized by the YMCA in 1948 with more than 100 members to provide an opportunity for industrial supervisors to exchange ideas and to discuss industrial problems.

Important Issues

Personalities of industry, government and labor speak upon the most important issues facing management, foremen and labor today. It also promotes personal growth and understanding through the sharing of opinions and experiences, and keeps its members in touch with the best thoughts on industrial management, human relations in industry and allied subjects. The club is non-political, non-sectarian and takes no part in industrial controversies of any nature whatsoever. It is not affiliated with any local or national group supporting industrial and labor philosophies.

Alumni Directors Have Session in Bensalem

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS — A meeting of the board of directors of Bensalem H. S. Alumni Association was held last evening to clear up final obligations of the homecoming affair held Saturday evening.

Suggestions were offered as to how to improve future affairs. Jan 27th was set as the date of the next alumni meeting. Suggestions were made to assist the entertainment committee for this program.

The group was informed the second issue of the "Bensalemite" will be available next week. Plans were made to sell subscriptions to Alumni members as there now is an Alumni section.

The next director's meeting will be Jan. 13th.

Suggestion Box Will Be Feature, P. T. A. Meeting

East Bristol Twp. Parent-Teacher Ass'n will hold its December meeting Monday at eight p. m., in Edgely community building. The card party report will be given, and Christmas plans for the children will be discussed. A "question and suggestion box" will be presented and members will be asked to place in it any questions or suggestions they might have concerning the meetings, the programs for the year, and projects they would like to see accomplished this year. These slips need not be signed.

An opportunity will be given parents to talk with their children's teachers during the 15 minute "get-acquainted" period in the meeting, after which the program will get underway.

Mrs. Erna McKevitt, music supervisor, will direct the program and present the sixth grade pupils in a skit "Christmas in Mexico." Carol singing will also be led by Mrs. McKevitt. Refreshments will be served.

TO FETE HOCKEY TEAM

Bristol PTA will hold a meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 16th, at eight p. m., in cafeteria of Bristol high school. There will be a continuation of the panel discussion of "Children in the Schools." That same evening, the PTA will entertain the hockey team of Bristol high school at a dinner in the high school at six p. m. The team is the hockey "champs" of lower Bucks county.

Number of Prowlers in Langhorne Growing Fast, Says Police Chief at Council Meeting

LANGHORNE — The increase in the number of prowlers in the Langhorne area from a previous average of two a year to almost one a week was told of by Police Chief William E. Arnwine in his report to Langhorne Borough Council last night.

Arnwine elaborated later by saying that a great number of these reported prowlers cannot be found by police. He attributed the prowlers' escape to the lack of a radio communication, permitting too long an interval of time between the report of the prowler and police arrival on the scene.

Radio Wanted
The chiefs of police of the surrounding areas are anxious for radio communication, he said. He pictured a communication network between Hulmeville, Langhorne, Pennel, and Newtown boroughs and Middletown township which he said the police of those areas were actively discussing.

Arnwine reported that 11 motorists had to be pulled out of the mire at Richardson Ave. and Pine St., in a five day period last month. Soft shoulders exist along the roadway at this point he said.

Curbing Discussed
Problems arising because of recently-installed curbing being above the level of sidewalks in some sections were discussed. William J. Palmer, secretary said, "Considering the size of the project it went over pretty smoothly." He said that only $215 of the total cost yet remained.

Croydon Motorist Charged With Fleeing After Mishap

Joseph Fitch Is Accused of Damaging Big Truck Parked Off Road

CROYDON — A Croydon driver, who was apprehended at his home after allegedly fleeing the scene of an accident, was scheduled for hearing on a charge of violation of the motor code, according to Bristol Twp. Officer Ernest Nuskey.

The one so charged is Joseph Fitch, 58, of Central ave., who, according to officers, was the operator of a car which rammed a tractor-trailer owned by Breslin & Conn yesterday.

Fitch is said to have sustained minor cuts of the face, but refused treatment. In addition to Nuskey, officers Charles Shaw and Robert Lawrence investigated the case.

Ran Off Road
Police report that Fitch's car ran off the road-way and hit the rear of the Breslin & Conn vehicle parked at Logan avenue and State road. Slight damage was caused to the truck, and considerable damage to the right portion of the Fitch machine.

No one was in the tractor-trailer at the time, police state, but the driver, Thomas Bellerby, who was in a building nearby, ran out, as did

---NEWS BRIEFS---

Deputy Attorney General to Investigate Dumping of Chemicals

Deputy Attorney General Robert J. Trace is scheduled to come to Bristol Monday to investigate the accidental dumping of 2,000 pounds of cyanide into the Delaware River. Trace will determine how the incident occurred at the Rohm & Haas plant and decide on the basis of his findings whether legal action will be brought under the Clean Streams Act. The probe was ordered by Attorney General Robert E. Woodside, Jr. After the accidental discharge of the poisonous chemical on Tuesday, other industrial plants in the area along the Delaware closed, temporarily idling some 10,000 workers. Sanitary Water Board officials said it was the second such incident at the same plant, which permitted 6,000 pounds of poisonous chemicals to escape into the river last April.

"Ike" Completes 3-Day Tour of Korean War Zone

Seoul (INS)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower completed a whirlwind three-day tour of the Korean war theater today with a promise of continued aid to South Korea in its struggle against the Communists. Before taking off for his return journey, Eisenhower reaffirmed that the United Nations forces will defeat the Communist armies opposing them in Korea.

The president-to-be left Korea at 6:01 EST today after three days of touring combat zones, inspecting American and South Korean troops and conferring with top-ranking commanders in the Far East. The General and his staff often were in range of enemy guns during his Korean tour.

Eisenhower let it be known that he and his accompanying party, which included two of his cabinet appointees and other aides, would "study and digest" their Korean findings during the 10,000-mile trip back to the United States. He refused to answer questions fired at him by 125 correspondents before he left Korea.

Eisenhower implied that he would make no detailed report on his

Motorists Face Hearings On Manslaughter Charges

Three motorists face hearings on charges of manslaughter as the result of the deaths of three pedestrians struck on roads in the area. Two of the victims were young children and the third, killed early this morning on Route 13, was a farm laborer residing in Tullytown.

Victims of the accidents were listed by police as John Garcia, 42, of Bordentown Rd., Tullytown, a laborer employed on the King Farms; Lawrence H. Ginn, Jr., age 5, of 269 Main St., Doylestown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Ginn; and Louise Derstine, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Derstine, of Allentown Rd., near Elroy.

Walking on Highway
Patr. Ralph Ragnoli, of Bristol Township police, said Garcia was killed shortly after 3 o'clock this morning when struck by a car while walking along Route 13 about a mile west of Weatshead Rd.

Driver of the car involved, police said, was L. Edward Johnson, of Main St., Tullytown, who was returning home from his job at the Warner Sand and Gravel Co. in Morrisville when the accident happened.

Didn't See Pedestrian
Police Chief Franklin Kirby of Falls Township said Johnson is being held in $500 bail on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Johnson told police a car in front of him at the time nearly struck the pedestrian, swerving out suddenly, and Johnson did not see the pedestrian until it was too late.

He stopped to render aid until the Bucks County Rescue Squad arrived to take Garcia to Mercer Hospital in Trenton, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The Ginn boy was crossing Main st., Doylestown, near his home, police said, when he was struck by the car of Joseph Brucker, Tradesville. He had just put a note on the windshield of his father's car, and was going over to join his mother.

Taken to Doylestown Emergency Hospital in the Doylestown ambulance, he was removed to Abington Hospital for a brain operation, and died there.

Louise Derstine's death resulted from a skull fracture and a broken leg she sustained when a car operated by Raymond E. Trussell, Elroy, struck her while she was sledding on Allentown rd., Elroy, police said.

She had been sledding with two brothers and a friend, and was up the road, on the opposite side from her companions, crossing the highway to join her companions, she was knocked down by the car.

She died in Grand View Hospital.

Outline Plans for Two Newportville Functions

NEWPORTVILLE—The monthly meeting of Junior Auxiliary of Newportville Fire Co. No. 1, is postponed from Dec. 9th until Jan. due to Christmas activities in the fire station this month.

The Ladies Auxiliary held a session Dec. 1st. Due to absence of the president, Mrs. Norwood Lewis, Mrs. William Sottung presided. Final preparations were made for the children's Christmas party and the women's Christmas party. The women's party will be held Dec. 18th at eight p. m. It will be a covered dish affair. The members will reveal secret pals. Anyone not on the secret pal list is asked to take a $1 gift for exchange.

The children's party will be held Dec. 20th, 7-9 p. m. There will be Santa Claus and gifts. Children from the area are invited.

TREE POLL

There is genuine risk in injecting the word "poll" into public consciousness during this post-election period of surfeit. But string along through a sort of hall of fame of American trees.

Someone with a more than ordinary amount of imagery has named a dozen of America's favorite trees and explained their appeal. According to a release in today's mail they range, alphabetically, from the apple—described as the "motherly type"—to the sassafras, "with its intriguing mitten-shaped leaves and sweetness of the bark of its roots."

Here are a few more samples: "Most talkative," trembling aspen; "meekest," gray birch; "debutante type," paper birch ("white, clean, and pretty as a princess. It likes the company of many confidants"); "all-American boy," American beech; "showiest," sugar maple; "most character," pine; "best dressed lady," dogwood. The honey locust is described as the "city slicker" type, because it thrives amid skyscrapers and sidewalks.

Not everyone, of course, will agree with all of the selections, but that's natural. Many would have added the rugged shagbark hickory and the hard maple, both of which add to the fall panoply in New England. And what of the cathedral effect of the California redwood, or the sherry glass shape of the American elm?

"To a man a tree can mean many things, as they apparently do to the unknown who did the polling. When he speaks of the apple tree as "warm, comforting, useful like mother in her apron, bustling about the kitchen," you might find it within yourself to disagree with the analogy, but you must envy him for his warm, rich kinship with his subjects.

It's refreshing to find a man who looks upon a tree and sees something besides board feet of lumber, newsprint, or a place to tack up a sign. There are many who share his views, of course. Unfortunately few take the trouble to set their thoughts on paper.

SQUARE-RIGGED GUEST

Wilmington, Del., was singled out as the sole port of call in this country for the square-rigged Danish maritime training ship, Danmark, during its current Atlantic training cruise. The ship arrived after a long trip under sail from the Caribbean.

It is difficult to dispute the poetry in motion of a square-rigger under sail. The facts of maritime life being what they are, however, a square-rigger is as rare in U. S. ports as the three-toed sloth. Denmark, along with several other European nations, still believes in basic training in marlinpike seamanship for its fledgling navy and merchant marine officers.

Actually the Danmark, a graceful 188-foot vessel, is a maritime classroom. The young Danes who take the periodic training cruises aboard her spend their time in class sessions as well as learning how to trim a yard and furl top-gallants while underway.

much it was," Judge Biester said to the garageman, "That was back in 1950 and I can't remember and couldn't find the bill. I thought the estimate would do," said the garageman who was the second witness for the plaintiff.

Because there is a conflict in the amount of damages mentioned in the plaintiff's statement of claim and estimate for repairs, Judge Biester ruled that he couldn't possibly allow the jury to guess at arriving at a decision.

Counsel for the plaintiff explained that the case was referred to their office by a Philadelphia attorney who forgot to instruct the witness, Kurt Jasch, what papers to bring along to the trial.

Palmer said that no word had been received on the new lease contract for post office space in the Town Hall. The Post Office Department has offered $150 per month rent for the building, it was reported, but the borough was asking $175. At present, said Palmer the post office does not have a lease contract with the borough for the space.

A special meeting was called for Dec. 29.

RECIPES

SERVE BEEF CUBES IN THIS DIFFERENT WAY

Here's an unusual way for preparing beef cubes, usually served as a stew. Cook them by braising in a tomato sauce, then serve on a bed of egg noodles. This produces a dish that's grand eating. With beef plentiful in your market, it's a thrifty dish too, points out Reba Staggs, home economist.

Beef in Tomato Sauce—Noodles
1½ pounds boneless beef stew, cut in 1-inch cubes
3 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 cup diced onion
1 No. 2 can tomato puree
½ teaspoon cloves
½ cup water
1 8-ounce package noodles, cooked

½ cup cooked peas, drained and seasoned.
Mix flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown meat slowly in lard or drippings. Add onion, tomato puree, cloves and water. Cover and cook in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) or simmer on top of range for 2 hours or until tender, adding more water if necessary. Cook noodles in boiling salted water. Arrange meat and vegetables on hot drained cooked noodles. Surround with cooked peas. 6 servings.

STUFFING GIVES NEW LOOK TO THESE MEAT CUTS

Stuffing can make a difference! Let this be a simple way of giving a new touch to the next serving of a favorite meat cut.

For instance, any one of these meat cuts may be stuffed, says Reba Staggs, home economist. A flank steak may be topped with a stuffing, then rolled and braised. Or the meat may be cut into individual fillets. Extra-thick pork chops are another choice the same as racks of spareribs, or lamb or pork cushion-style shoulders that have been boned, then left flat.

Choose a stuffing that combines particularly well with the meat cut. For instance, fruit fillings are good with pork. An apple, apricot, pineapple or prune stuffing or a combination of these fruits might be used. Sausage stuffing is ideal for beef flank steak or a lamb shoulder roast. Fluffy white rice or corn are other choices for beef and veal. Of course, with any meat a well-seasoned bread stuffing is always appropriate.

CAMERA MOUNT

AKRON, O.—(INS)—A new airplane camera mount has been devised which will remain steady even if the plane pitches and rolls. Aeronautical engineer F. J. Herman, of the Goodyear Aircraft Corp., Akron, says the mount can be used in rough weather since it remains steady within close limits no matter how much the plane bounces.

The 1953 model is the 25th presented by Plymouth since the company started in 1928. Everything has changed in those years except the car's reputation as the finest in the low-priced field. See your local Plymouth dealer.—(Adv.)

TREE POLL

There is genuine risk in injecting the word "poll" into public consciousness during this post-election period of surfeit. But string along through a sort of hall of fame of American trees.

Someone with a more than ordinary amount of imagery has named a dozen of America's favorite trees and explained their appeal. According to a release in today's mail they range, alphabetically, from the apple—described as the "motherly type"—to the sassafras, "with its intriguing mitten-shaped leaves and sweetness of the bark of its roots."

Here are a few more samples:
"Most talkative," trembling aspen; "meekest," gray birch; "debilitate type," paper birch ("white, clean, and pretty as a princess. It likes the company of many com-ifers"); "all-American boy," American beech; "showiest," sugar maple; "most character," pine; "best dressed lady," dogwood. The honey locust is described as the "city slicker" type, because it thrives amid skyscrapers and sidewalks.

Not everyone, of course, will agree with all of the selections, but that's natural. Many would have added the rugged shagbark hickory and the hard maple, both of which add to the fall panoply in New England. And what of the cathedral effect of the California redwood, or the sherry glass shape of the American elm?

To a man a tree can mean many things, as they apparently do to the unknown who did the polling.
When he speaks of the apple tree as "warm, comforting, useful like mother in her apron, bustling about the kitchen," you might find it within yourself to disagree with the analogy, but you must envy him for his warm, rich kinship with his subjects.

It's refreshing to find a man who looks upon a tree and sees something besides board feet of lumber, newsprint, or a place to tack up a sign. There are many who share his views, of course.
Unfortunately few take the trouble to set their thoughts on paper.

SQUARE-RIGGED GUEST

Wilmington, Del., was singled out as the sole port of call in this country for the square-rigged
Danish maritime training ship, Danmark, during its current Atlantic training cruise. The ship arrived after a long trip under sail from the Caribbean.

It is difficult to dispute the poetry in motion of a square-rigger under sail. The facts of maritime life being what they are, however, a square-rigger is as rare in U. S. ports as the three-toed sloth. Denmark, along with several other European nations, still believes in basic training in marlinespike seamanship for its fledgling navy and merchant marine officers.

Actually the Danmark, a graceful 188-foot vessel, is a maritime classroom. The young Danes who take the periodic training cruises aboard her spend their time in class sessions as well as learning how to trim a yard and furl top-gallants while underway.

much it was," Judge Biester said to the garageman. "That was back in 1950 and I can't remember and couldn't find the bill. I thought the estimate would do," said the garegeman who was the second witness for the plaintiff.

Because there is a conflict in the amount of damages mentioned in the plaintiff's statement of claim and estimate for repairs, Judge Biester ruled that he couldn't possibly allow the jury to guess at arriving at a decision.

Counsel for the plaintiff explained that the case was referred to their office by a Philadelphia attorney who forgot to instruct the witness, Kurt Jasch, what papers to bring along to the trial.

Palmer said that no word had been received on the new lease contract for post office space in the Town Hall. The Post Office Department has offered $150 per month rent for the building, it was reported, but the borough was asking $175. At present, said Palmer the post office does not have a lease contract with the borough for the space.

A special meeting was called for
Dec. 29.

RECIPES

SERVE BEEF CUBES IN THIS DIFFERENT WAY

Here's an unusual way for preparing beef cubes, usually served as a stew. Cook them by braising in a tomato sauce, then serve on a bed of egg noodles. This produces a dish that's grand eating. With beef plentiful in your market, it's a thrifty dish too, points out Reba Staggs, home economist.

Beef in Tomato Sauce—Noodles
1½ pounds boneless beef stew, cut in 1-inch cubes
3 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 cup diced onion
1 No. 2 can tomato puree
½ teaspoon cloves
½ cup water
1 8-ounce package noodles, cooked

½ cup cooked peas, drained and seasoned.
Mix flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown meat slowly in lard or drippings. Add onion, tomato puree, cloves and water. Cover and cook in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) or simmer on top of range for 2 hours or until tender, adding more water if necessary. Cook noodles in boiling salted water. Arrange meat and vegetables on hot drained cooked noodles.
Surround with cooked peas. 6 servings.

STUFFING GIVES NEW LOOK TO THESE MEAT CUTS

Stuffing can make a difference!
Let this be a simple way of giving a new touch to the next serving of a favorite meat cut.
For instance, any one of these

meat cuts may be stuffed, says Reba Staggs, home economist. A flank steak may be topped with a stuffing, then rolled and braised.
Or the meat may be cut into individual filets. Extra-thick pork chops are another choice the same as racks of spareribs, or lamb or pork cushion-style shoulders that have been boned, then left flat.

Choose a stuffing that combines particularly well with the meat cut.
For instance, fruit fillings are good with pork. An apple, apricot, pineapple or prune stuffing or a combination of these fruits might be used. Sausage stuffing is ideal for beef flank steak or a lamb shoulder roast. Fluffy white rice or corn are other choices for beef and veal.
Of course, with any meat a well-seasoned bread stuffing is always appropriate.

CAMERA MOUNT

AKRON, O.—(INS)—A new airplane camera mount has been devised which will remain steady even if the plane pitches and rolls.
Aeronautical engineer F. J. Herman, of the Goodyear Aircraft Corp., Akron, says the mount can be used in rough weather since it remains steady within close limits no matter how much the plane bounces.

The 1953 model is the 25th presented by Plymouth since the company started in 1928. Everything has changed in those years except the car's reputation as the finest in the low-price field. See your local

A Wealth Of Good Books Now Being Published For Children

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

LOOKING forward to Christmas and planning your budget for the gifts you will buy your children, I hope you include good books, especially for the child from two to twelve.

Books for preschool children are a rather recent development. Already they are among the best sellers and many of them being published are excellent in content and art. Besides, some of the better ones may be borrowed from local public libraries.

Frequently, one may see a mother, father or both with a child from two to six at a public library looking for books there that appeal to this child. Home these parents and child go with one or several of these treasures. These parents, or an older child or baby sitter, will give this child many periods of useful, joyous amusement reading to him. Often, too, at the bookstore one may see parents and young children looking over good books to buy for these children.

Some factors have paralleled, sometimes paved the way for, this comparatively recent practice. Year by year there are more baby sitters. Now a book from which she can read to the youngster from two to seven is a boon to them, as anybody knows. Too, book publishers have rapidly forged ahead in bringing out many beautiful books designed to be read to little children.

Emphasis Shifted

most solely on telling stories to children. Some teachers easily remember when a number of reading experts urged them to warn parents against reading to children, especially after entering school. While a few of this "old guard" are still sounding the same silly warning, the emphasis by educators has shifted to the opposite direction. In the current professional literature for teachers in the kindergarten and primary grades, one may find much emphasis on the value of reading to the young child at home, even in the classroom.

I am proud to have pioneered in entreating young parents, even teachers in the primary grades, to read and read to babies and young children, dwelling strongly on this in my books and in this column, even when such an idea was unpopular. In my bulletin, "Books from Which to Read to the Baby and Young Child," I give reasons for reading to the baby and young child. In this list and another list for the child from six to twelve to read, are named some books which have stood the test of time as well as others which are recent. (If you'd like either list, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this paper.)

It would be fine also to include in your Christmas gifts for your child a subscription to one or more of the good magazines for children now available. It's like getting a new book every month. It brings the child something of his very own at regular intervals. However, just as adult magazines hardly can be a substitute for good books, neither can the children's magazines, though they certainly are fine supplements.

unprecedented Korean trip until after his inauguration Jan. 20. But he predicted that "great benefit" will result from his visit to the Korean war theater.

He said that "much is to be done" and promised that his incoming administration will be "better able to cope" with the Korean problem and other international issues.

Among those accompanying him were Defense Secretary-designate Charles E. Wilson, Attorney General-designate Herbert Brownell Jr. and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The president-elect conferred with top commanders in Korea and also with South Korean President Syngman Rhee. He jeaped and flew up to the various front line combat areas from Seoul.

A Wealth Of Good Books Now Being Published For Children

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

LOOKING forward to Christmas and planning your budget for the gifts you will buy your children, I hope you include good books, especially for the child from two to twelve.

Books for preschool children are a rather recent development. Already they are among the best sellers and many of them being published are excellent in content and art. Besides, some of the better ones may be borrowed from local public libraries.

Frequently, one may see a mother, father or both with a child from two to six at a public library looking for books there that appeal to this child. Home these parents and child go with one or several of these treasures. These parents, or an older child or baby sitter, will give this child many periods of useful, joyous amusement reading to him. Often, too, at the bookstore one may see parents and young children looking over good books to buy for these children.

Some factors have paralleled, sometimes paved the way for, this comparatively recent practice. Year by year there are more baby sitters. Now a book from which she can read to the youngster from two to seven is a boon to them, as anybody knows. Too, book publishers have rapidly forged ahead in bringing out many beautiful books designed to be read to little children.

Emphasis Shifted

most solely on telling stories to children. Some teachers easily remember when a number of reading experts urged them to warn parents against reading to children, especially after entering school. While a few of this "old guard" are still sounding the same silly warning, the emphasis by educators has shifted to the opposite direction. In the current professional literature for teachers in the kindergarten and primary grades, one may find much emphasis on the value of reading to the young child at home, even in the classroom.

I am proud to have pioneered in entreating young parents, even teachers in the primary grades, to read and read to babies and young children, dwelling strongly on this in my books and in this column, even when such an idea was unpopular. In my bulletin, "Books from Which to Read to the Baby and Young Child," I give reasons for reading to the baby and young child. In this list and another list for the child from six to twelve to read, are named some books which have stood the test of time as well as others which are recent. (If you'd like either list, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this paper.)

It would be fine also to include in your Christmas gifts for your child a subscription to one or more of the good magazines for children now available. It's like getting a new book every month. It brings the child something of his very own at regular intervals. However, just as adult magazines hardly can be a substitute for good books, neither can the children's magazines, though they certainly are fine supplements.

unprecedented Korean trip until after his inauguration Jan. 20. But he predicted that "great benefit" will result from his visit to the Korean war theater.

He said that "much is to be done" and promised that his incoming administration will be "better able to cope" with the Korean problem and other international issues.

Among those accompanying him were Defense Secretary-designate Charles E. Wilson, Attorney General-designate Herbert Brownell Jr. and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The president-elect conferred with top commanders in Korea and also with South Korean President Syngman Rhee. He jumped and flew up to the various front line combat areas from Seoul.

 ditions warrant. This is more important now, with virtually all auto tires now in use being made of synthetic rubber.

"Pedestrians will have to be mindful of their own responsibility, stepping from the curb only when it's safe to do so, crossing streets where expected at corners and avoiding the blocking of their own vision by umbrellas or handbags."

"Motorists who are planning out-of-town trips for the Christmas holiday should allow plenty of time for their journey, taking into account the possibility of sudden change in the weather and development of hazardous highway conditions."

"Our state has a well-planned program of snow removal, but individual motorists must join in exercising good sense in driving. Snow fences are set up along side highways to control the drifts, stock piles of clinders and other abrasives mixed with ice-melting chemicals are placed at known danger points, and snow plows with their crews go into action as needed."

 Citizens Council for Bucks County Planning, was attended by 56 persons, representing the Planning Commission, municipalities in the area and their sewer and water authorities, civic organizations and citizens.

John T. Mladjen, executive director of the Citizens Council, presided at a panel discussion by Donald Perry, research consultant for the Pennsylvania Economy League who surveyed Bristol's water situation last year; John Collins, chairman of Falls Twp. Sewer and Water Authority; Albert O. Redland, of Morrisville Water and Sewer Authority and Forsyth, George Duval, president of the Citizens Council, opened the meeting.

Charles Luciano, vice chairman of Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority, which provides water and sewer service to Levittown, announced that his organization can provide water to neighboring districts, including Falls and Middletown twps., in addition to its present users.

 also Richard Hoin. They told police that Fitch got out of his car, an argument ensued, and that Fitch then ran away. Fitch was later apprehended at his home, officers state.

Bristol township police officers report arresting William C. Lordan, 34, of Sunset Lane, Levittown, at 2:05 this morning. Officers state that Lordan was "weaving" when taken into custody at Haines road and Route 13. He was examined by a physician, and pronounced unfit to drive a car, according to police. Hearing is scheduled for this evening. Nuskey and Lawrence investigated.

Psalms 37: "Good Council"
Many folks seek council of others. The best council to be found is the word of God. This Psalm of David presents seven words which present "Good Council" to the child of God. "Fret not", "Fret not thyself because of evildoers; When you see the wicked prospering remember; some day is pay day. Be content with whatsoever things ye have; above all remember, "All things work together for good to them that love God. "Trust"; Trust in the Lord and do good; To trust is to put our confidence into; To trust is to exercise faith, without faith it is impossible to please God. "Delight"; Delight thyself also in the Lord; To delight ourselves in the Lord, we must put our trust into Him. "Commit"; Commit thy way unto the Lord, and He shall bring it to pass. Committing ourselves to Him, we lean upon Him. We are encouraged to, cast all our care upon Him, for He careth for us. "Rest"; Rest in the Lord; This is the result of a wholehearted commitment; to rest is to enjoy peace of mind and heart. "Cease"; Cease from anger and forsake wrath. Wrath and strife belong to the flesh, cease from it and trust in the Lord your strength. "Wait"; Wait upon the Lord; Wait patiently for Him. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength.

PHILADELPHIA — "Lou" Maurer and "Al" Hofmann, of the championship Neshaminy High football team, were chosen as the most valuable back and lineman, respectively, of the Lower Bucks County League.

Announcement of the selection of Maurer and Hofmann was made at the fifth annual banquet of the Bucks County Chapter, P. I. A. A. Football Officials Association last night at the Lexington Casino, Roosevelt Boulevard.

The selections were made by the sportswriters who covered the games of the Lower Bucks circuit, namely: Thomas Juno, Bristol Courier; Jack Gill, Delaware Valley Advance; Jack Scullen, Trenton Times; and Jack Lebegern, The Trentonian.

Maurer and Hofmann were recipients of trophies donated by the Officials Association. These were presented by Thomas Juno and accepted on behalf of the players by Harry Franks, coach of Neshaminy High.

Coach Franks told those present of the playing prowess of the two chosen. In six Lower Bucks League games, Maurer completed 59 out of 101 passes. He scored five touchdowns and passed to 17 others. His passing totaled 1,056 yards for the Redskins. Al Hofmann, an end, scored nine touchdowns during the season and was brilliant on offense and defense besides doing the punting for the Neshaminy eleven.

Two other trophies were presented. Joseph Diamanti, of the Diamond Sporting Goods Store, gave a trophy to Berkley Ellis, of Delhaas, for his team's winning of the 135-lb. Diamond Football League and Henry Morgan awarded a trophy to Joseph Sagolla whose Washington Street school team won the Bristol Borough-Bristol Township Elementary Touch Football League.

Words of praise and congratulations were heaped upon the Neshaminy team by the coaches, school officials, and football officials present at the affair. Joseph Diamanti was toastmaster for the occasion with Henry Morgan, president of the association, introducing the various coaches, guests, and officials.

Short addresses were made by Coach Franks who praised the players of his team on the fact that they were never behind at half-time; Vince Hermanson, assistant coach of Neshaminy; Gordon Davis, of Morrisville; Alex McDonald, athletic director, Morrisville; George Jarmoska, Pennsylvania; Marlon VanHorn and John Messinger, Bensalem; Claude Lodge and Ed Dux, Southampton; Barney Emil and Dr. E. Chandler, Hamilton; Marty Fishbein, coach of Florence High; Walt Blair, coach of Jenkintown High; James Darbie, principal of Neshaminy High; N. Gilbert, of Richboro High; J. Rohrbaugh, William Ingraham, and Medill Blair, the latter superintendent of Pennsylvania High; Anthony D'Angelo and Frank Gavis, Bristol High; Dominick Sagolla and Harry Feaster, Council

Rock High; Horace Jefferies, of the Bristol Borough School Board; Henry Decker and Tom Elliot, of Delhaas High; and Arnold Ody, of Bensalem.

Frank Turok, of the Junior High League championship team, Morrisville, spoke of Junior High football as did Joseph Sagolla, of Bristol High.

Claude Lodge, of Southampton, who is now the Lower Bucks County District No. 1 P. I. A. A. representative, advised the schools to give him their problems for presentation to the PIAA meetings.

A former coach, John Slaven, of Bensalem, who recently returned after serving as an Army Lieutenant in Korea, told of the fighting in Korea and how the boys there have a high morale with a will to win and return to the states. He described the hilly surfaces of Korea and the tough fighting that is going on. Slaven was in the fighting at Triangle Hill.

He congratulated the officials on their fine work and said "As long as the officials keep doing a fine job, Lower Bucks will have a fine league."

Members of the Bucks County Chapter of Football Officials are: John Antoni, Edward Barty, Joseph Conturso, Joseph Diamanti, Stanley Dick, Wally DeWitt, Frank DeSimone, Larry Dougherty, Berkley Ellis, Joseph Elmer, Bernard Emil, Clyde Fly, William Graf, Ed Johnson, Frank Kleha, Henry Morgan, William McCoy, Kenneth Maag, Vince Presto, Robert Terry, Joseph Sagolla, Stanley Slovak, LeRoy Zehner, Ed Carber, and George Sperling.

Officers are: President, Henry Morgan; vice-president, Stanley Dick; secretary and treasurer, Larry Dougherty; executive committee, Joseph Diamanti, Vincent Presto, William McCoy, and Ed Barty.

Stanley Dick is president of the Lower Bucks County Coaches Association; Gordon Davies, Morrisville, vice-president; and Gerald Bloom, Bristol, secretary. The menu consisted of: Fruit cup, celery and olives, soup, filet mignon, French fried potatoes, peas, rolls and butter, pie and coffee.

Entertainment and a movie film of Philadelphia Eagles football games followed the banquet.

Announcing a fabulous new HUDSON HORNET
and a spectacular new HUDSON WASP

HERE IT IS, the fabulous Hudson Hornet for 1953—beautiful, luxurious new version of the car that won 44 out of 52 stock-car races in 1952, a record never approached by any other make. You've never driven a car so lovely, so smart, so thrilling!

See the Hudson Hornet's restful color harmony in your choice of two ensembles to complement exterior car colors. See and try new foam rubber seat cushions with bolstered and rolled-edge contours for more comfort. See the nylon interior fabrics in exquisite patterns new to the auto world.

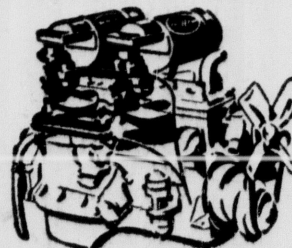

And try the 1953 Hudsons on the highway! Feel them hug the road on turns: the result of Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design, which gives them the lowest center of gravity in any American car!

And for 1953—there are two great, lower-priced running mates to the Hudson Hornet—the new Hudson Super Wasp and the new Hudson Wasp. The Super Wasp has a high-compression H-127 engine and smart new interiors; and the even lower-priced Hudson Wasp features a powerful H-112 engine and interiors unsurpassed in its field.

Standard trim and other specifications and accessories subject to change without notice.

HUDSON HORNET
and a spectacular new HUDSON WASP

HERE IT IS, the fabulous Hudson Hornet for 1953—beautiful, luxurious new version of the car that won 44 out of 52 stock-car races in 1952, a record never approached by any other make. You've never driven a car so lovely, so smart, so thrilling!

See the Hudson Hornet's restful color harmony in your choice of two ensembles to complement exterior car colors. See and try new foam rubber seat cushions with bolstered and rolled-edge contours for more comfort. See the nylon interior fabrics in exquisite patterns new to the auto world.

And try the 1953 Hudsons on the highway! Feel them hug the road on turns: the result of Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design, which gives them the lowest center of gravity in any American car!

And for 1953—there are two great, lower-priced running mates to the Hudson Hornet—the new Hudson Super Wasp and the new Hudson Wasp. The Super Wasp has a high-compression H-127 engine and smart new interiors; and the even lower-priced Hudson Wasp features a powerful H-112 engine and interiors unsurpassed in its field.

Standard trim and other specifications and accessories subject to change without notice.

COME SEE THE 1953 HUDSONS TODAY!

Better Preparation Is Aid in Passing Test

Large Percentage Fail In Attempt to Secure Drivers' Licenses

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5 — Better preparation on the part of prospective drivers would result in fewer failing their driving test, according to State Police.

During the first nine months of 1952, a total of 288,642 tests were conducted by the State Police. Of this number, 108,720 or 37 per cent resulted in failure. During this period last year, 314,820 examinations were given resulting in 113,862 failures.

During September 1952, driver examinations totaled 38,026 with 14,904 failures, as compared with 42,948 tests in the same month last year when there were 16,165 failures.

"It is apparent that many applicants do not take the examination seriously until they arrive at the testing location," said Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, State Police Commissioner. "This attitude results in inadequate preparation leading to failure. The examination is not difficult for those who are properly qualified. It is designed to measure the knowledge and ability required in coping with current traffic conditions."

The importance of utilizing the competent services of well qualified instructors was stressed by the Commissioner. He pointed out that the haphazard training can be responsible for many failures.

Colonel Wilhelm advised prospective drivers to inventory their qualifications before attempting to take a test. He suggested that they consider the following:

1. Ability to drive. Complete mastery of the car is necessary. Be prepared to demonstrate ability to stop and start on a grade, turn in a narrow street, and execute various other maneuvers which prove ability to control a vehicle.
2. Know the meaning of all traffic signs and signals.
3. Signal properly by use of the hand or a mechanical device.

4. Be thoroughly familiar with the "rules of the road". Examiners ask several questions designed to test an applicant's knowledge of the requirements of The Vehicle Code.

RECIPES

WINE-SIMMERED FIGS

- 1 pound dried figs
 - 2 cups water
 - 1 cup Muscatel or Sweet Sherry Wine
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - ½ cup sugar
 - 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- Wash figs and place in a saucepan. Add water, wine and lemon juice. Bring to a boil, then cover and simmer for 25 minutes. Add sugar and lemon rind. Cover and continue simmering for 15 minutes, or until figs are tender. Cool, then chill. Serve with cream. Serves 5 or 6.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Bristol Township Elementary School

Bristol township schools have among their many aids for providing educational record-keeping for the children of this area, a device which has been proclaimed by many as one of the most comprehensive studies of the child ever devised. This "Pupil's Cumulative Record Card" is an outgrowth of a need for a comprehensive record which was expressed by teachers and administrators in a recent philosophy of education developed by them for Bucks county schools. To plan new, wholesome experiences, "A school must have extensive knowledge about every individual; it must be interpreted wisely and used in the guidance of each individual toward more adequate personal and social adjustment, and for more realistic, educational, vocational, and recreational planning."

The county record card is unique in that it is the work of the teachers and administrators of the area in which it is used. Developed during the school year 1948-1949, it has continued to provide what is said to be "the best possible study of each child in his entire growth from kindergarten through the 12th grade." This permanent cumulative record card, which brings together in one place all the pertinent data pertaining to an individual, is the most important tool in the whole school program to assist the teacher in learning to know the pupil as an individual. With this background of information, the teacher-counselor is better able to help the pupil to understand himself; thus, he, in turn, is able to choose more wisely a goal equal to his needs, interests, and abilities.

The card itself is divided into ten main sections following the child's growth throughout his entire school career and following him into post-high school maturity. It is unique in that Part V "Follow-Up Information" has a section designed for a study to be made of each graduating class one year after the date of graduation. A second study is to be made five years later, and the third, ten years later. From such surveys, accurate and up-to-date information can be secured for the permanent cumulative record. Also under Part V the name and date of the student's marriage is recorded along with any civic activities and honors achieved.

There are a total of 1,399 separate items in the "Cumulative Record Card" covering the child. Starting with identification data and ending with extra curricular activities, the items run the entire span of activities for proper guidance including elementary school scholastic record, objective test data, educational and vocational plans, follow-up information, junior-senior high school scholastic record, summary data, family background data, and behavior description.

A manual of instructions has been edited by teachers of the county, and by closely following this manual, all entries are uniform throughout the entire area. The manual carefully explains each entry to be made, describes the information requested and gives suggestions as to how to obtain this information. In addition to these suggestions the manual lists a suggested schedule for filling out the "cumulative record card."

"WASHINGTON REPORT"By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.

Not all of the tragedies of the Korean war occur on the battlefield. Thousands of highly trained young men have been drafted or called back to active duty with the armed forces only to be employed in boom-dogging jobs which surpass in idleness the leaf-raking days of the Works Progress Administration.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are wasted annually by the Defense Department on a phony career guidance program, representing a monument of futility in the Pentagon's manpower policies. There are ample facts to prove it and I recommend the following to the attention of the House Armed Services Committee and its upcoming Republican chairman, Representative Dewey Short, of Missouri.

In Berlin, for instance, a young soldier schooled at Army expense in the care and maintenance of diesel engines is employed as a company clerk. Another soldier, trained at great cost by the Army in electronic communications, is fire chief of West Berlin. He bosses several hundred firemen, but prior to his assignment he had never attended a fire, let alone helped put one out.

Another G. I. in Berlin was trained at Army expense in administration. He now rides the streets of West Berlin, chauffeured by a German in a limousine, inspecting garbage collections in the city. A combat infantry sergeant is in charge of emergency power stations. His experience in this type of work consists of having been severely shocked when he touched one of the electrical devices in the emergency station, owing to the fact that he does not understand the German language and therefore cannot take instructions from the Germans employed as his assistants.

These are not isolated instances.

They are simply a few examples among the thousands available for the attention of Congressman Short's committee.

In fact, Cosmopolitan Magazine, in its December issue, goes into the subject in greater detail than my own investigation, but the findings coincide.

For instance, at the Army War College at Carlisle, Pa., 750 men are employed in the job of servicing 150 students; a Navy tanker in the Pacific has a crew of 282 men, whereas a commercial tanker performing the same job has a crew of 43 men.

We are spending $10,933,000,000 annually to maintain approximately 3,700,000 men and women in the Armed Forces. And Selective Service is now threatening to start drafting 19-year-old youths.

The Armed Forces have always been notorious for wasting manpower. However, in the pre-Korean period the Defense Department, with great fanfare, set up a career guidance department and created an Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Manpower. Mrs. Anna Rosenberg was appointed to the job. She has journeyed far and wide, inspecting domestic and overseas military posts. Little has been said or done about the mismanagement that exists in the handling of soldiers, sailors and marines. Yet huge sums are spent cluttering up military posts with so-called experts in personnel placement policies. In fact, the Defense Department's manpower branch maintains a civilian in almost all of our military installations at home and abroad who is responsible to the Defense Department and not to the military commander in the area. He has charge of placing military men in the right job. He reports to Mrs. Rosenberg.

As an example, a jet-fighter wing has six officers and 52 enlisted men assigned to personnel work. They include a career guidance specialist, senior personnel specialists, senior welfare specialists and plain welfare specialists. There is one officer or soldier with this title for every 29 Air Force men in a jet squadron.

Similar wasteful situations exist in all the services. The investigation by Cosmopolitan Magazine turned up a Marine Corps reservist called back to duty because of the shortage of experienced radar men. He was assigned to cleaning barracks and painting buildings. A Marine radar expert employed by a major wireless company was called back to service and assigned to issuing athletic equipment at a Marine base in the U. S. An Army sergeant skilled in electrical engineering now works as a mail orderly in an Army base.

So it goes. Men are rushed into the services via the draft or active duty orders and many are trained at great expense in military schools, only to be shunted into housekeeping duties where their skills are wasted. If the new Congress wants to cut military spending and get dollar value out of the manpower employed by the services there is no better place to start with than the Pentagon's phony manpower placement division.

★ NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY ★

Young Levittown Pupils Must Be Hardy Souls Loaded on Bus by Mom,

Johnny Faces Ordeal;
So Does Parent
By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Tots in Levittown — kindergarten kiddies and first graders — are hardy souls. They are of necessity.

For a little tyke of five just starting his first day in kindergarten, or for a little man of six years going to first grade and possibly to school for the first time, it is no doubt an awesome thing to board a bus-full of strange girls and boys, operated by a strange man, then "manfully" dismount a few miles away to enter a building strange to him.

"Strangeness" is the order of the first day. To this novice the teacher is a person he possibly has never seen before, the same with the janitors.

Many a Levittown mother has found that first day her child has gone to school the longest day of her life. Many a one has, a day or two in advance, prepared a "name-card", on which she has written in big, bold letters the name of her child, his street and number, and added "Levittown". The idea is, that even though Johnny or Mary have been taught their full address, and the names of their parents, their families can be located in case the tots run into difficulties or become "tongue-tied" (which never happens at home).

It's a long drill for a little fellow of five or six from any part of this community to schools in nearby towns. Some use the school buses, some the public vehicles.

At many a house here instructions as to where to get off the bus on the return trip have been firmly implanted on the minds of the youngsters — but the streets and the houses all look alike to the kiddies (in fact they do to most grown-ups).

A case ended happily for one tyke on Farmbrook drive this week. Little George Sabo started his first day at kindergarten. Implicit instructions were given by his mother as she showed him at just which bus stop she would be awaiting him in the late afternoon. George's mother was there in plenty of time, but George didn't arrive on that bus. Telephone calls were made to Bristol, with information received that George had been placed on a bus at a certain time. Queries of drivers as they waited at the end-of-the-line in Levittown brought no definite information although drivers were as helpful as they could be.

A drive about Levittown streets, with inquiries among other children were of no avail, then just as darkness was about to descend George was found at home. Yes sir, he was over-flowing with information that he had walked home from the bus stop "all by myself". He received a most loving embrace from his mother, and was commended for being such a "big boy". He didn't need the slip on his warm jacket which bore his name and address, but it was there "just in case".

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Vincent H. Hartley and his wife, Gloria, of 20 Gate lane, first met during World War II, when they worked at the Fleetwings plant, in Bristol. He was a Navy inspector and she was a riveter.

They were married in Bristol, and made their home there until moving here Oct. 1. The Hartleys, with their daughters, Gail Elaine, 2½, and Gloria Ann, six, lived for the past three years at 268 Jackson st. Gloria Ann is in first grade at the Wistar Institute School.

After the war, Mr. Hartley went to work at the Philco Corp. Plant in Croydon, as an expeditor. Last year he returned to the Fleetwings plant, now operated by Kaiser Metals Corp., as a purchasing agent.

Mr. Hartley was born in Yonkers, N. Y., and his wife in Wilkes-Barre.

Besides Penny, their boxer brindle female dog, gardening is a hobby with the Hartleys. Next spring you'll see blooming outside their kitchen, grey pearl, serenade and other patented roses.

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Lt. (jg) H. Keith Scott, of 3 Grove lane, recently returned from the Korean War theater, where he was supply officer on the destroyer U. S. S. Strong. He was a Marine Corps pilot during World War II, and between wars studied at Iowa State College, Ames.

His wife, Joanne, worked in the campus library while Mr. Scott was attending Iowa State. They are both native Iowans, from Des Moines. They were married during his service in the Marines.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott, and their 2½-year-old daughter, Sarah, moved here Oct. 31, from Norfolk, Va., a month after he returned from Korea. He is now assigned to the Navy Aviation Supply Depot, Phila. He was supply officer of the Strong, and previously sailed in the Mediterranean Sea on the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Mindoro. Mrs. Scott studied at Drake University, Des Moines.

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Stafford D. Caldwell is a member of the air observer unit that scans the skies from an observation tower at the Middletown twp. building, near Langhorne. Once each week he leaves his new home at 26 Gate lane in the early morning hours to stand watch on the tower, to insure against the arrival of enemy aircraft.

Mr. Caldwell, a member of the American Legion, is commander of Jesse W. Soby Post 148, of Langhorne. His wife, Ruth, is in the Legion Auxiliary.

The Caldwells lived in Bristol Terrace, at 144 Schumacher dr., for five years, until moving here Oct. 20. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell both grew up in Parkland and attended Langhorne High School.

He is a field engineer for Philco Corp., at their Croydon plant, where he has worked for seven years. He was in the Army Air Corps during World War II, as a radarman, and served in the European theater. He and Ruth were married while he was in the service.

They have three children, Douglas, nine and Sandra, eight, pupils in Wistar Institute School, and Constance, 14 months old.

SURPRISE INSIDE THESE TENDER BANANA MUFFINS

Need a touch to take your meal out of the "plain" class? A heaping basket of hot bread can often be the answer. Banana Surprise Muffins are one good example. The surprise? Says home economist Reba Staggs, it's the strawberry jam your family finds when they break open these muffins, made with lard to be at their tender best.

Banana Surprise Muffins
1½ cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup melted lard
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
Strawberry jam
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and sugar into mixing bowl. Mix together egg, lard and bananas. Add to dry ingredients, mixing only enough to dampen all flour. Turn into well-greased small muffin pans. Drop about a teaspoonful of jam on top of each muffin. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes. 16 small muffins.

Household sponges can be kept fresh by soaking in cold salt water.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

FISH can be an easy and good-tasting main dish, with no strain on your budget. A bit of preparation, as in this planked version of halibut steak suggested by the A & P Service for Homemakers, provides an impressive meal for family and guests alike.

For six servings, get two halibut steaks, one and one-half inches thick. Put baking plank in a cold oven and set control for moderately hot (400 degrees F.). Leave plank to heat for ten minutes. Remove, grease well with butter, margarine or olive oil and place halibut steaks in center. Season fish with salt and pepper and dust with flour. Sprinkle generously with melted fat or oil. Return to oven and cook until fish is almost done, about 25 minutes. While the fish is cooking, peel three cucumbers and cook in salted water till barely tender, about eight minutes. Cut a slice from top of each or cut in half and remove center. Drain cups and discard seeds and chop balance. Mix with one and one-half cups of cooked, chopped spinach, and drain well in a sieve. Season with salt, pepper and butter. Pile into cucumber cups. Arrange cucumbers and green beans or other vegetables attractively on plank around fish. Butter all liberally and brush fish with fat. Return to oven and bake until fish flakes when tested with a knife and vegetables are thoroughly heated, about five minutes. Garnish with lemon and watercress or parsley. Serve immediately.

Young Levittown Pupils
Must Be Hardy Souls

Loaded on Bus by Mom,

Johnny Faces Ordeal;
So Does Parent
By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Tots in Levittown — kindergarten kiddies and first graders — are hardy souls. They are of necessity.

For a little tyke of five just starting his first day in kindergarten, or for a little man of six years going to first grade and possibly to school for the first time, it is no doubt an awesome thing to board a bus-full of strange girls and boys, operated by a strange man, then "manfully" dismount a few miles away to enter a building strange to him.

"Strangeness" is the order of the first day. To this novice the teacher is a person he possibly has never seen before, the same with the janitors.

Many a Levittown mother has found that first day her child has gone to school the longest day of her life. Many a one has, a day or two in advance, prepared a "name-card", on which she has written in big, bold letters the name of her child, his street and number, and added "Levittown". The idea is, that even though Johnny or Mary have been taught their full address, and the names of their parents, their families can be located in case the tots run into difficulties or become "tongue-tied" (which never happens at home).

It's a long drill for a little fellow of five or six from any part of this community to schools in nearby towns. Some use the school buses, some the public vehicles.

At many a house here instructions as to where to get off the bus on the return trip have been firmly implanted on the minds of the youngsters — but the streets and the houses all look alike to the kiddies (in fact they do to most grown-ups).

A case ended happily for one tyke on Farmbrook drive this week. Little George Sabo started his first day at kindergarten. Implicit instructions were given by his mother as she showed him at just which bus stop she would be waiting for him in the late afternoon. George's mother was there in plenty of time, but George didn't arrive on that bus. Telephone calls were made to Bristol, with information received that George had been placed on a bus at a certain time. Queries of drivers as they waited at the end-of-the-line in Levittown brought no definite information although drivers were as helpful as they could be.

A drive about Levittown streets, with inquiries among other children were of no avail, then just as darkness was about to descend George was found at home. Yes sir, he was over-flowing with information that he had walked home from the bus stop "all by myself". He received a most loving embrace from his mother, and was commended for being such a "big boy". He didn't need the slip on his warm jacket which bore his name and address, but it was there "just in case".

(By Staff Reporter)

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Vincent H. Hartley and his wife, Gloria, of 20 Gate lane, first met during World War II, when they worked at the Fleetwings plant, in Bristol. He was a Navy inspector and she was a riveter.

They were married in Bristol, and made their home there until moving here Oct. 1. The Hartleys, with their daughters, Gail Elaine, 2½, and Gloria Ann, six, lived for the past three years at 268 Jackson at Gloria Ann is in first grade at the Wistar Institute School.

After the war, Mr. Hartley went to work at the Philco Corp. Plant in Croydon, as an expeditor. Last year he returned to the Fleetwings plant, now operated by Kaiser Metals Corp., as a purchasing agent.

Mr. Hartley was born in Yonkers, N. Y., and his wife in Wilkes-Barre.

Besides Penny, their boxer brindle female dog, gardening is a hobby with the Hartleys. Next spring you'll see blooming outside their kitchen, grey pearl, serenade and other patented roses.

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Lt. (jg) H. Keith Scott, of 3 Grove lane, recently returned from the Korean War theater, where he was supply officer on the destroyer U. S. S. Strong. He was a Marine Corps pilot during World War II, and between wars studied at Iowa State College, Ames.

His wife, Joanne, worked in the campus library while Mr. Scott was attending Iowa State. They are both native Iowans, from Des Moines.

They were married during his service in the Marines.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott, and their 2½-year-old daughter, Sarah, moved here Oct. 31, from Norfolk, Va., a month after he returned from Korea. He is now assigned to the Navy Aviation Supply Depot, Philadelphia.

He was supply officer of the Strong, and previously sailed in the Mediterranean Sea on the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Mindoro. Mrs. Scott studied at Drake University, Des Moines.

LEVITTOWN, Dec. 5 — Stafford D. Caldwell is a member of the air observer unit that scans the skies from an observation tower at the Middletown twp. building, near Langhorne. Once each week he leaves his new home at 26 Gate lane in the early morning hours to stand watch on the tower, to insure against the arrival of enemy aircraft.

Mr. Caldwell, a member of the American Legion, is commander of Jesse W. Soby Post 148, of Langhorne. His wife, Ruth, is in the Legion Auxiliary.

The Caldwells lived in Bristol Terrace, at 144 Schumacher dr., for five years, until moving here Oct. 20. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell both grew up in Parkland and attended Langhorne High School.

He is a field engineer for Philco Corp., at their Croydon plant, where he has worked for seven years. He was in the Army Air Corps during World War II, as a radarman, and served in the European theater. He and Ruth were married while he was in the service.

They have three children, Douglas, nine and Sandra, eight, pupils in Wistar Institute School, and Constance, 14 months old.

SURPRISE INSIDE THESE TENDER BANANA MUFFINS

Need a touch to take your meal out of the "plain" class? A heaping basket of hot bread can often be the answer. Banana Surprise Muffins are one good example. The surprise? Says home economist Reba Stages, it's the strawberry jam your family finds when they break open these muffins, made with lard to be at their tender best.

Banana Surprise Muffins

1½ cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup melted lard
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
Strawberry jam
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and sugar into mixing bowl. Mix together egg, lard and bananas. Add to dry ingredients, mixing only enough to dampen all flour. Turn into well-greased small muffin pans. Drop about a teaspoonful of jam on top of each muffin. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes. 16 small muffins.

Household sponges can be kept fresh by soaking in cold salt water.
